An update from the Executive Director:

Dear Friends of Christ the King Center,

As I am sure you are all aware, matters regarding COVID-19 continue to progress, as Governor Cuomo issued an executive order stating that all workers of nonessential businesses must stay home, in order to combat the effect of the coronavirus.

In relation to this order, we are no longer able to accept individual bookings, as well as retaining the need to suspend all group gatherings for the near future. This includes Tuesday Healing Services, Lenten Fish Dinners, and guest groups. We also ask that visitors to Christ the King come in groups no larger than two and maintain social distancing during their visit, as we all do our part to assist in slowing the virus.

Our dedicated staff are working to prepare recordings of services and some events to allow for continued access and communication to those of you who wish to stay connected. Please continue to stay tuned to the website for more updates, as more information becomes available.

As we all adjust to these new mandates, feel free to keep up with our Youth Ministry team as they present a Bible verse, thoughts for us to consider, and an activity for each day. Find their videos with the following link:

We continue to pray for our community, nation and world as we continue to face these changes, trusting in our faithful Lord.

Blessings,
